“Congratulations to the Cobb Energy Performing Arts Centre Foundation for its hard work and its success in returning JAZZ ROOTS: A Larry Rosen Jazz Series to metro Atlanta for its second season,” said Cobb Energy Centre Managing Director Michael S. Taormina, CFE. “This is an exceptional opportunity for Atlanta audiences to enjoy the performances of world-class jazz musicians and—consistent with the Foundation’s educational focus—for all of us to better understand the influences and impact of this uniquely American art form.”

“We are thrilled to bring our JAZZ ROOTS series to Cobb Energy Centre for its second season and to the music fans of the Atlanta region,” said JAZZ ROOTS producer Larry Rosen. “Our concerts and accompanying education and outreach programs reach out into the community and bring folks together as we celebrate the great artists and the legacy of America’s music.”

Double Time: music and a mission

JAZZ ROOTS: A Larry Rosen Jazz Series was created in conjunction with the Adrienne Arsht Center for the Performing Arts of Miami-Dade County. Established in 2008 and presented in cities throughout the United States, JAZZ ROOTS celebrates the blend of jazz, blues, gospel and R&B that, along with cultural, political and stylistic elements from American history, help create the music called jazz.

Music great Quincy Jones has proclaimed JAZZ ROOTS “the most important new concert and educational jazz series in America . . . this series is simply imperative.”

“The success of JAZZ ROOTS last year confirmed that the series is a natural fit for the Cobb Energy Performing Arts Centre Foundation, whose mission is to provide quality arts education programs and community outreach initiatives to the region,” said Alice J. Thacker, the Foundation’s Director of Development. “Through the JAZZ ROOTS education opportunities, the Foundation was able to further its mission and support of arts in education and provide over 2,000 students the opportunity to experience jazz either in the classroom or at a concert at the Centre.”

The JAZZ ROOTS series offer a unique opportunity for a host of young music lovers. For each of the concerts, 100 high school students from schools in the Atlanta region will attend the show, as well as enjoy the privilege of attending pre-concert sound checks and participating in special Q&A sessions with the performers. Additionally artists from the various concerts will visit schools to offer a master class for music students.

The 2013 – 2014 season will feature the following five phenomenal offerings:

A Tribute to Ella, Joe, Basie featuring Janis Siegel, Kevin Mahogany & Count Basie Orchestra on September 25, 2013 honoring two great singers Ella Fitzgerald and Joe Williams.

A Night in Rio presented by Sergio Mendes and Eliane Elias on October 26, 2013 will bring these two Brazilians stars together to perform a romantic mixture of styles called Bossa Nova.

Dave Koz & Friends Christmas Tour this year will ring in the holidays on December 2, 2013 featuring Dave Koz and Oleta Adams with additional guests to be announced at a later date.

New Orleans! Aaron Neville and Dirty Dozen Brass Band will begin the New Year with the sounds of New Orleans Jazz on January 30, 2014.
